Speed Young got five years for house-breaking; John Kersey, who shot Henry Beazley, in Dancantown about one year ago, was given five years in the pen; "Colonel" Coffey was fined $75 and sent to jail six months for shooting Jas. Sagar; Robt. Beazley got $25 and ten days for carrying a pistol. The trial of Elwin Clouse for killing Wm. Tracy, at Buckeye Tree, is now in progress. The grand jury will adjourn today and have found about 25 indictments.

Brick Kiln.
We are reliably informed that a movement is on foot to burn a kiln of brick at once and have them ready by October. The people then can get brick at home at a much cheaper price than by sending away from home for them.

Methodist Meeting.
The meeting which has been in progress at the Methodist church since Sunday week, came to a close Tuesday night. Much interest was awakened in the church and several united. Many more would have attended had the weather been more favorable.

Hold Your Orders.
I will be better equipped than ever, in the Fall, to sell you a suit of clothes, at the lowest prices, guaranteeing a perfect fit. I will have samples from best houses in Louisville, Chicago, Philadelphia and Buffalo. Look before buying. M. D. Hughes, Agent.

Public School.
The colored Public School, of this city, opened on the 15th. The teachers are C. P. Anderson, Principal, Mrs. Emma Duncan and Miss Willie B. Lackey, assistants. The number enrolled first week was 152. The two lower rooms are crowded to their utmost capacity. The school is in a flourishing condition.

Good Idea.
The physicians in charge of the several cases of fever in town have very wisely prohibited their patients from having company. While a sick person loves for friends to call and ask about him, yet the doctors have decided to put their cases in the hands of one competent person and keep every one else out, and the wisdom of this move is easy to see.

Charley Walker Sick.
Charley Walker, who recently got a transfer from the Lancaster company to the Fourth Regiment, came home from Lexington Sunday and is confined to his bed by typhoid fever. Dr. Bush says he thinks Charley will pull through all right, as he has been a stout and active boy all his life.

Election Commissioners.
The election board, created by the recent session of the legislature, met at Frankfort and appointed the commissioners for each county. These for Garrard are Messrs. Curt A. Robinson, Wm. L. Lawson, democrats, and Geo. T. Phiergo, Republican. These men are all reliable and will do the square thing. If all the others appointed are as good as Garrard's the new law will work better than most people predict.

Free Lecture at Christian Church.
Sunday night, by John Baptist, of Constantinople, Turkey. The above minister an missionary with the very distinguished name, will lecture on the Armenian massacres of which he was an eye witness, at the Christian church next Sunday evening at half-past 7 o'clock. Mr. Baptist is a cultivated Christian gentleman and was once photographer to the Sultan of Turkey.

Residence Fixed Up.
The pretty residence of Gov. W. O. Bradley, on Lexington street, is undergoing a thorough overhauling and painting. This is the residence once occupied by Allan A. Burton, dec'd., and later by Judge George Denny. It is in a beautiful location, is conveniently arranged and when the repairs are completed, will be one of the prettiest places in town. We understand Gov. Bradley's family will spend several weeks here when the house is put in shape.

Court Day.
A big crowd came in Monday and trading was quite lively. Every one was talking about the great corn crop, and all say it will be one of the best they ever saw. Some cattle were on the market and a report of the sales will be found in our stock column. The street fakir was conspicuous by his absence. The minister now preaching at the Methodist church made a few remarks in the Park, the choir sang some hymns, the crowd ate dinner with the ladies helping out the soldier boys, and all went home after having spent what may be called an "average" court day.

The Lancaster Company.
The boys of Co. L are getting pretty tired of camp life and some of them write that they would be willing to go to Cuba, Porto Rico, the Devil or most any old place just to get away from Chickamauga. They are a patient set, however, and never make a kick at what is to be done. Parties coming from there say they know no more there about what is to be done than we do here in Lancaster. They never find out anything until the order is issued. While there are several of them at home sick yet the health of the company in camp is good and seldom is a man in the hospital.

Lieut. Farrar Ill.
Lieutenant John M. Farrar, who came home last week on a ten days' furlough, was taken ill Saturday and the case has since developed into typhoid fever. He was not looking well when he came, but kept on foot and made a hard fight against that dreadful feeling which only those who have had it can appreciate. Dr. Kinnsaid, the attending physician, says he thinks the case of mild form and that John is in no danger, though he will have to be particular with himself. The fact that he is at home where he will receive the very best of care and attention makes big odds in his favor.

Another Soldier Dead.
As stated in last issue of THE RECORD, Private Clarence Parks was brought home from Chickamauga last week quite ill. He had typhoid fever and been discharged from the hospital to come home. We understand, though, that Parks ate some solid food on the train. This, together with the jostling of the cars, gave him a back set from which he never rallied. He reached the home of his parents, on the new Danville pike, about two miles from town, and died there Sunday night. Parks was about twenty-two years old and bore a splendid reputation for honesty, sobriety and industry. He was among the first to enlist and, we learn from an officer, made one of the best soldiers in the company. The remains were placed in the Cemetery vault until Tuesday when they were interred in the family burying ground near Hyattsville.

Badly Needed.
People who come in on the three o'clock night train have to grope their way home over streets as dark as Egypt. The electric lights are extinguished at midnight and a trip from the depot to the Public Square causes a person to say and think many things about those at fault which would not look well in print or be appropriate in a Sunday School. One of the Councilmen has suggested, and will bring up at the next meeting, the plan of putting about three of the gasoline lamps along the street, and employ some one to light them every night. This is a capital idea, and is a plan which will meet the approval of the tax payers in general (the usual kickers and draw-backs excepted, of course.) Fine new pavements will soon be laid to the depot and we hope the Council will see to it that this needed improvement is made. If some one gets crippled and sues the town it would be a hard matter to avoid paying damages in a case like this, one which can so easily be remedied.

Night Men Needed.
The L. & N. people should, by all means, put a man at the depot to meet the night trains. It is impossible to get a ticket or have baggage checked for these trains, and as nearly all the travel out of Lancaster is done over the night trains the fact that no one is there to wait on patrons is a serious one. People arriving here at night are compelled to let their baggage lie on the ground in the rain and mud, and those going away must get a check in the afternoon and let their belongings remain on the platform 'til the train arrives. The attention of the higher officials will be called to this fact and its safe to say the trouble will be investigated. The patronage of these trains has grown remarkably, so the trainmen say, notwithstanding the fact that the public is given no accommodations at the depot. Our people are delighted with the present train service, but do not care to risk having their baggage stolen from the platform or rather from the ground.

Noble Work.
As stated in a previous issue of THE RECORD, the Fiscal Court by a vote of two to two declined to pay for the blankets furnished the soldier boys when they were quartered in the Court House with absolutely nothing to keep them warm. The blankets had to be paid for, and as they cost about eighty dollars, the burden would have been great on the several men who ordered them. The women, God bless 'em, came to the rescue and served a dinner in the Park Monday, the proceeds to be used on this payment. Several of them went over a portion of the county and soon made up enough provisions, assistance being refused at only three residences. As soon as the object of the dinner was made known on the streets Monday nearly every man in town went to the Park and patronized it. The blankets (which had been returned when Uncle Sam gave the boys others) were then put up and sold at auction. The total amount realized is not enough by about ten dollars, but those officers who ordered them will pay the difference out of their own pockets.

Second Regiment to be Moved.
A special from Chickamauga says the Second Kentucky, of which our boys are members, has been ordered to Huntsville, Alabama. The special also says that some of the dissatisfied private got up petitions in the regiment and sent them to the Secretary of War asking that the regiment be mustered out. The petitions were mailed without knowledge of the regimental officers and, of course, were sent back to Col. Gaither. The colonel was very much surprised at such an unwholesome place of work and told the men that if they did not care to serve their country in an hour of need, to step out and they should receive a discharge without honor. A few, the report says, accepted the dishonorable discharge, but fully 95 per cent of the men refused to do so. The men were led into scheme by a few fellows to lazy to do a soldier's duty and the men were sorry they had litened to the talk of the fellows who were to trifling to make good soldiers and were willing to get the entire regiment into trouble simply to get out themselves. The report says the men are delighted with the idea of being moved and no further trouble in the regiment will come up. Col. Gaither has had enough experience to know that one or two lazy, dissatisfied men can upset a whole regiment and it is safe to predict that he will soon get rid of such cattle.

Mrs. Gistineau has traded her property in the Baker addition to Hansberry West for a farm near Hyattsville. There are 165 acres in the tract.

Elopement.
Mr. Rufus Moss and Mary Belle Sherrow eloped to Danville Wednesday and were married in the parlors of the Gilcher Hotel.

Much Sickness at Home.
While the boys at Chickamauga have been faring pretty well, yet those who have come home have had and are now having a hard time from fever. Corporal Harry Robinson is still confined to his bed, though is thought to be some better. Josh Sutton remains very ill at his home near Marksburg. Al Newland is quite sick at Crab Orchard. Mike Mullins is confined to his bed at Bryansville. Ex Reynolds is very ill in Stanford and Sergt. Major Rowan Sandley is still unable to leave a sick bed at his home in Stanford. This makes eight men now on the sick list, but as they are all at home and in good hands there need be no alarm as to the outcome. All needed in fever is the nursing, and these boys will surely get the best of it.

To Morgan's Men.
We are in receipt of a letter from officers of the Seventh Ohio Cavalry extending an invitation to all survivors of Morgan's command to attend the National Encampment at Cincinnati and be their guests during the time. The circular, in part, is as follows:

"It seems to be a fitting time to put the seal on the new bond of union that shall make us, as a Nation, one, indivisible, and unconquerable. Therefore we, the undersigned former officers of the Seventh Ohio Cavalry, your neighbors of a nearby State speaking for ourselves, in our own names, and, as we believe, voicing the sentiments of all our comrades, extend to you, all of 'Morgan's Men,' this our cordial invitation, asking you to meet with us, as our guests, at our reunion in Cincinnati, on September 7th. We ask you to come and bring your sons with you. The counterclaim is 'Dawar-Hosson.'"

The Sidewalks.
Work in different parts of town is going on on the sidewalks. On Stanford street J. H. McMurry has taken up and relaid his brick walk. On Lexington street Mrs. Susan Fisher is grading and preparing to lay a sidewalk in front of her beautiful and valuable property. On Danville street Mrs. D. M. Lackey has repaired her brick walk. On Richmond street Dr. Herring is progressing with his work which is improving his fine place greatly.

Takes Charge of Graded School.
Prof. J. H. Patterson and family have arrived from Lebanon and moved into the Graded School property. As we stated at the time of his selection Prof. Patterson has had charge of a Lebanon school. He is highly recommended both as a gentleman and tutor. THE RECORD extends a cordial welcome to him and family. The school will open September 13, and the outlook for a successful term is very bright.

It's a bad policy to own land which you can't get on your horse and ride to.

If those fellows who are howling for "more land" would go to work tilling some of that now on hand, they would not have time to dictate to the administration.

The proposition to hold the Philip-pines is very much like into a woman going to a store on "Bargain Day" and leading down with things not needed simply because they are cheap.

Those in authority are now directing their attention to the reorganization of the army. The acquisition of new possessions will necessitate an increase to about 100,000 men. Representative Hull, of the House Committee on Military Affairs, proposes to push a bill through when Congress meets, and Senator Hawley will look after it in the Senate.

Some of the dailies are putting forward the name of Devey for president. As he is a man of fine sense, good education, moral habits, has a contempt for political wire-pulling and less use for politicians, we are for him teeth and toe nail. The greatest blessing which could be given this country would be a chief executive who could not be led by the nose by party bosses and politicians.

When General Lee called on the President when he was in Washington recently, he was accompanied by his son. The President was pleased with the appearance of the young man and appointed him a lieutenant in the regular army. If the younger Lee has the excellent qualifications of his father, the president will never have cause to regret making the appointment. We do not believe a better general than Lee ever wore shoulder straps.

Much speculation is being indulged in as to the final disposition of the Philippines. The people are becoming widely differed on the subject and if a vote were taken 'twould be hard to foretell the result. While the islands are quite valuable, yet we are firmly convinced that they are a mighty good thing to let alone. Acquisition of far away territory has caused nothing but trouble for every country that ever tried it. Our people have all the territory they want and more than they need.

THE G. A. R. will meet in Cincinnati on the 7th of next month, and the generals and colonels who never smelled powder will make sky-scraping speeches, tell how "we" fought and what "we" did. The editor of this paper has taken pains to look up the record of nearly all speakers on such occasions in recent years and finds that if one-third of them were ever in a battle, history fails to record the fact. Those who bear the burden and heat of battle are satisfied to stay at home and "let bygones be bygones."

Ex-Gov. McCREARY denies having given out an interview regarding his views on the question of territorial expansion. He, however, gives a statement of his position on the Philippine question and other matters. He is in favor of leaving the Philippine matter out of politics entirely, and says that the Democratic party would do well to stand by its platform of 1896 with free silver and the tariff as the paramount issues. Ex-Governor McCreary believes that this country should construct, own and control the Nicaraguan canal.

THERE is a movement on foot to have the athletes, especially football players, in the volunteer army mustered out of service as early as possible. This ought to be done forthwith, as the long-haired, rattle-brains are losing much valuable time by serving Uncle Sam. The government should keep in service the clerks, lawyers, merchants and farmers and let the football men return to "business." The country will soon go to wreck if these fellows are kept out of playing. Turn 'em out, Mr. Secretary, and keep those in service who have nothing to do but make an honest living. The country must have foot-ball, by all means.

The following is Governor Bradley's views on the annexation of territory as the result of the recent war:

"The acquisition of foreign territory means the formation of a standing army in every country so acquired, and the building of a navy to hold the territory in subjugation. It means taxation, a strongly centralized government and the opportunity, yes, the probability of measuring arms with the combined nations of the world. It means troublesome entanglements and complications. That the hand should be taken from the throat of starving Cubans and a stable government given to the people of Cuba is justified alike by every principle of religion and morals. But when this is done, as it may be by treaty adjustment, all has been accomplished that is necessary and proper."

FEAKING of the hanging of the negro, Stephenson, at Stanford last week Editor Walton says: "It is awful to see a human being put to death, but a life for a life should always be the forfeit. If the legal killing of the Negro will stay the bloody carnival in this country, he will not have died in vain, but we fear his death will have little effect, since but few in the vast crowd seemed to realize the solemnity of the act of taking a person's life, even by the power of the law. Let those who would dye their hands in another's blood pause and think. After a long time the scaffold has been again erected in Lincoln county and from this time on let us hope that every murderer will expiate his crime like Stephenson."

The commissions to arrange for the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico have been completed, the Spanish commissioners having been announced. For Cuba, they are for the United States, Maj. Gen. J. F. Wade, Maj. Gen. M. C. Butler and Rear Admiral Sampson. For Spain, Maj. Gen. Parado, Rear Admiral Paster and Marquis Montoro. For Porto Rico they are for the United States, Maj. Gen. Jno. Brooke, Rear Admiral Schley, Brig. Gen. W. W. Gordon. For Spain, Maj. Gen. Otero, Commodore Vallarino and Judge Advocate Sanchez del Aguila. Under the terms of the protocol the Cuban commissioners must meet at Havana and the Porto Rican commissioners at San Juan within thirty days from the signing of the protocol, which was on August 12.

The primary conventions in the different counties are falling into line in their instructions for the renomination of Congressman Geo. M. Davison, in spite of his desire to retire, and he will be put up for the second time. When the convention is in progress, however he will be fighting the hay fever at Marquette, Mich., with his political interests in the hands of his lieutenants. There is considerable curiosity concerning the plan of campaign that Davison will pursue in his congressional race. Mr. Gilbert, the Democratic nominee, is a splendid mixer and fine stumpster, and he has announced his intention of challenging Davison to debates in every county in the district. Mr. Davison lays no claim to being a public orator, neither does he believe that there is much virtue in the political speech. He is a great man to make a house-to-house canvass, and in his former races, both in his county and in the district, he met more men personally than any other candidate of his day. Still, if Mr. Gilbert persists in his challenges for a debate and follows Davison over the district in this way, he will be forced to meet him somewhere.

The Rev. W. R. Costley, of Stock-bridge, Ga., while attending to his pastoral duties at Ellenwood, that state, was attacked by cholera morbus. He says "My chance happened to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I think it was the means of saving my life. It relieved me at once." For sale by R. E. Interesting Letter.
Moutank, Long Island.
Sunday, Aug 14th 1893
My Dear Dear Mother:

Letters received dated July 18th and Aug. 2nd respectively. The one dated 18th reached me at Camp-Hamilton, near Santiago de Cuba a few days before we left. I had just written you and mailed the letter before yours came. Received the one dated Aug. 2nd just a few moments ago. Was just starting to write you when it came. I am so glad to know my dear friends in dear old Lancaster take so much interest in me and are glad to know I am living. The battle of Sibony where you thought I was killed was only a little skirmish between the Rough Riders, 10th Regulars and a small detachment of Spanish troops in which the Spanish were forced to retreat, loss estimated between 150 and 200; our loss 10 killed and about 30 wounded. No, mother I never did feel that I would be killed, I don't know why. That battle of July 15th will ever be remembered by me, Artillery shells of all kinds, whistling around us for nine hours. Imagine the nervous strain for so long; men falling on the right and left of it was horrible. I saw one man wounded the first next to me on my left, before the battle had been in progress five minutes. The last words he had said, "stay with them and give them hell Dunlap." He enlisted when I did. A New York man fell on top of him and was killed and behind me in ten seconds two more wounded and have died in hospital since. I tell you they were just moving them down. I can agree with Jno. Sherman, when he said, "War is hell." Well, mother, peace is declared, I am happy to know it, and now since it is all over, of course I am glad. I went to Cuba and took a part in the only battle of the war; but I can say unto you one thousand dollars could not buy me to spend another seven weeks in Cuba. It is said to be the most fertile spot on earth. Well I guess it is for fever and diseases of all descriptions.

Any one well knows how chills and fever affects one situated under the best of circumstances, but imagine what it is situated in a hostile country, sleeping on the wet ground, exposed in every way imaginable, and nothing to eat but hard-tack, fat bacon and black coffee. As long as one is well he can eat most anything and never say a word, but the above mentioned delicacies are a little more than a sick man can stand. Actually I have seen men laying in this camp now who look like they are almost starved to death, been sick so long, and cannot stand what they have to eat. I went six days on one stretch without eating anything, and since that time the chills and fever have struck me about one day out of every four, until I went on board the ship last Sunday, and since then I missed until yesterday. I was just beginning to think they had left me for good, when they struck me again, and I was awfully sick all day.

Well, we got orders last Friday, Aug. 5th, just before dark, to pack up, ready to leave on the next morning, and a happy lot of boys they all were, except about 75 out of the 6th cav., who were in the hospital, condemned for the hospital ship, which will go to Key West Harbor, in about ten days. Well, we started Saturday about one p.m., marched two miles and took a train for Santiago, that train, I wished you had seen it—a passenger train too. The coaches will not compare with a freight caboose, but it felt awfully good to ride anyway, or in anything. The poor cavalry groomed and cared for three horses for years, and when the war did come start them walking, and then brought us back here to our horses again, but we are satisfied with anything since they have taken pity on us enough to send us back to the dear old U. S. We arrived in Santiago late in the afternoon, then I was detailed from headquarters of regiment to go back to camp, horse back, as a guide for six mule teams to get baggage left behind. Well, it rained all the way and I got soaking wet, got back to Santiago some time after dark, and only just in time to catch the last cargo of stuff going out to the ship. We pulled off the noted harbor of Santiago at 4 p. m., Sunday, Aug. 7th, bands playing and cheers coming from the many naval and transport ships laying in the harbor. We passed the Merrimac sunk at the mouth of the harbor by Hobson. It was quite a curiosity to us, Moro Castle and all the fortifications also.

The Moro Castle is almost a complete wreck, and all the fortifications bear evidence of the awful cannonade fire that was so long directed at them. Well, we bid, which I hope was an everlasting farewell to Santiago and Cuba, and commenced our long 1,800 miles trip, to this place, arriving last evening, the 18th, about dark, and went into quarantine, although we had no yellow fever aboard. The ship was full of chills and fever patients. It was too late to examine us last night, so we had to wait until this morning. We got orders about noon, and a large crowd of people was at the landing to meet us, and gave us a hearty welcome. Many a poor soldier's heart felt rather happy to know we were on United States soil again, and such a send off was rather more than we had expected, as we have been isolated so long. It seems strange to see ladies and children, especially, give us such a round of welcome—one old fat lady amused me. She was dressed handsomely, and apparently belonged to the aristocrats, but she became so enthusiastic she rushed and grabbed me shaking hands, with a "God bless you, welcome home," as we marched by. It was rather a touching scene, and with every one it was a good, sound, heartfelt welcome. We are now in quarantine camp, will be here five days. Everything is very convenient here. Plank floors in tents, grass all cut, camp made in every way, and when we walked into it, whether you know it or not, that is a luxury seldom enjoyed by soldiers. The boys are beginning to look better already. I believe, notwithstanding there is some typhoid fever in adjoining camp, but I don't think it is spreading to amount to much.

A few words about Santiago, and I must close for this time. It is a very ancient looking town, walls of the houses straight up and down, and all molder, no adornments on the cornice, very small windows and a great many of them, with iron bars over them, looking like prisons. The streets look about like our alleys, side walks like bridge paths, and filthy is not the word. No sewerage at all. The people throw slops out on the street, (then call Spain a civilized people) look more like a place where cannibals live. Half of the people are nude, and all the children are. Occasionally you see signs of what was at one time elegance, but everything has gone to rack. Walk three squares and you will see half a dozen coffins being carried to their last resting place. You cannot imagine my feelings to hear of Willie Waters death. I am so sorry. I always thought so much of Willie. Tell Louis Landram I appreciate his remembrance of me, and sometime as soon as I feel strong enough I will write him something of interest for his paper in regard to the battle, &c. I have kept a diary of my trip—that is the principal events. Oh! how I wish I was at home to see everybody once more. Good-bye. Love to everybody inquiring. Tell Robert and Kathleen I hope to be home soon to see them. Your Son,
W. O. DUNLAP.

P. S.—Mother I send a little pin cushion I found on the battle field of Santiago, some dead or wounded soldier lost. Keep as a "souvenir" of the battle.

MT. HEBRON
Born, to the wife of Wm. Rogers, on the 17th inst., a girl.
Several of the youngsters of this neighborhood are attending the camp meeting at the Forks of Sugar Creek.
Miss Ola Scott, of Burgin, is visiting her grandmother and grand father, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Scott. Mrs. C. D. Pascoe and little son, of Jellico, Tennessee, are visiting her mother, Mrs. M. A. Ford. Mr. Timothy Ford is on the sick list this week.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy. —G. J. Boggs, Stumptown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. For sale by R. E. There is a move on foot to have the county road leading from this place to Walker's school house put out of the branch, something that should have been done years ago. It is the roughest road in the county, anybody that ever traveled it will say so. The people that live in this vicinity can't get to Lancaster without going four or five miles out of the way, unless they go horse back or a foot, this fact has been demonstrated this court, one of our neighbors is serving on the jury, he has a nice horse and buggy, but he prefers riding a colt that is hardly bridle-worthy. He says he can make better time and is not jolted to death when he gets there. It is impossible for the children to get to school without walking in the branch all the way, and it is nonsense for the farmers to talk about hauling anything like a load over the road. Not only this, it is dangerous to ride over it, we know from our own knowledge, of one lady and two or three different men to have their horses fall and throw them off, one of the men got a leg broke.

PAINT LICK.

Miss Mattie Thompson has returned home after a weeks visit to Miss Mary Lear.
Misses Lynia D'Hay and Ora Alexander, left for Cloverport, Ky., Friday night. Their many friends escorted them to the midnight train. There were many broken hearts left to mourn for their departure, but one pleasant thought is they will meet again.

Mrs. E. H. Ballard gave a party to the Ramsey visitors, Misses D'Hay and Alexander, last Thursday evening, which was certainly enjoyable to everyone present. The beautiful house was brilliantly lighted, and the yard decorated with Japanese lanterns. About 11:30 the crowd assembled in the dining room where they were served to an elegant supper. It is not very often that Paint Lick is honored by such a grand event. All were beautifully entertained until about 1:30, and then the Paint Lick band came in, and the square dances were indulged in the rest of the evening. No one ever enjoyed themselves more than they did that night.

Miss Nancy Harris Dead.

Miss Nancy Harris died at the family residence, two miles out on the Richmond pike Saturday. She was in her 88th year and a sister of Judge T. L. Harris, whose death was noted in a recent issue of The Record. There were only three members of this family who resided here. They were Judge Tyree Logan, Nancy and Margaret, the latter being about 85 and surviving the others. Miss Nancy, who died last week, was a widely-known and greatly liked woman. She was kind-hearted and a true friend. The remains were interred in the family burying ground Sunday. Miss Margaret the only one of the family left, will probably sell the farm and move to town.

When You Take Your Vacation the most necessary article to have with you (after your pocket book) is a bottle of Foley's Colic Cure. It is an absolute prevention or cure of all derangements of the bowels caused by a change of water. You are likely to need it.

A Jacksonville Soldier.

E. F. Chesnut, formerly of this county, who enlisted in the Second Texas Infantry, writes from Jacksonville, Fla., to his uncle, Millard Rout, that his company was detached from the 7th corps and sent there to embark for Porto Rico but peace was declared before they got aboard the transports.

He thinks his regiment will now be sent to Cuba to do garrison duty in some of the large towns. They are being newly equipped with brown duck uniforms. Chesnut says "I don't want to go now, for I am more afraid of the yellow fever than of the Spaniards. The boys were anxious to go and fight, but now they want to come home. I had a slight attack of malarial fever but am all right now. We were at Miami six weeks and lost 60 men from fever and measles. We are camped on the bank of the St. John river. It is cool and shady here. There are thirty thousand troops here from about twenty states. Our regiment has quite a good reputation. Whenever they want guards for the city they come to our regiment for them."

The entertaining committee, composed of Misses Lucie Ballard and Frankie Doty, together with R. E. The supper was served fit for ye gods. The elegant repast was served with the courteous generosity for which the Ballard house is noted the table being elaborately decorated, the national colors prevailing conspicuously the souvenirs for each guest being the likeness of Dewey. Sacrificed to Blood Poison.

Those who have never had Blood Poison can not know what a desperate condition it can produce. This terrible disease which the doctors are totally unable to cure, is communicated from one generation to another, inflicting its taint upon countless innocent ones.

Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood. The little one was unequal to the struggle, and its life was up to the fearful poison. For six long years I suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and no language can express the agony of watching those long years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians successively treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got two bottles, and I felt hope again revive in my breast—hope for health and happiness again. I improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S.S.S. is the only blood remedy which reaches desperate cases.

Of the many blood remedies, S.S.S. is the only one which can reach desperate, violent cases. It never fails to cure perfectly and permanently the most desperate cases which are beyond the reach of other remedies.

S.S.S. For The Blood

Baby Dying of Hydrophobia.

PADUCAH, Ky., Aug. 24.—The six-year-old child of Wm. Beard is a hopeless victim of hydrophobia. Six weeks ago he was bitten on the hand by a dog which has been a pet of the family for years. The dog immediately ran away and was shot at by a neighbor as a mad dog, but was not killed. It was never seen afterward. On last Friday the boy became ill. Tuesday morning he became so much worse that Dr. R. B. Griffith was called in. After careful examination he diagnosed the case as hydrophobia. No hope of recovery is entertained.

FOR HOUSES OF REFORM.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 22.—The board of trustees of Kentucky's houses of reform met here, and after a long session decided on buying the Tanner place of 210 acres on the Greendale pike, five miles from Lexington. Contrary to Gov. Bradley's interpretation of the bill creating the houses of reform, the house for the boys and the one for the girls will be located on the same farm. This is also in opposition to Mrs. Beauchamp's views, and she brought in a minority report against it. Her stand is that the houses must be located on separate farms, in order to carry out the spirit if not the letter of the law. There will be a hard fight against putting both houses on the same farm, and the governor will support Mrs. Beauchamp.

Wants to Remain in Service.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 22.—The officers of Col. Colson's 4th Kentucky regiment are making a desperate effort to prevent being mustered out of the volunteer service without having been given an opportunity to even get out of the state. One or two of the officers came here to consult with friends among the state officers, and a number of telegrams were sent from here to Washington urging the president to rescind the order and let the mountain boys see some service in Cuba. It is the general opinion here that not only the 4th, but the 21 and 3d regiments will also be mustered out before the end of the month.

Opposed to Dr. Whitsett.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Aug. 22.—At Glenview the Davies County Baptist association decided by a vote of 71 to 19 to strike from the report on colleges a clause withholding support from the Louisville Theological seminary if Dr. Whitsett should retain any connection with it. The association, which has 9,000 members, practically pledged opposition to any candidate who shall not declare himself in favor of local option.

Oldest Undertaker.

VERMILION, Ky., Aug. 20.—The oldest undertaker in point of service in Kentucky, and probably in the United States, lives at Owensville, in Bath county. Charles H. Iloos is his name, and he is 79 years old. Mr. Iloos has been an undertaker for 62 years, beginning as an apprentice in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1836. He has been at Owensville for 48 years, and is very active and progressive for his years.

Gov. Bradley May Not Attend.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 20.—Gov. Bradley announced Friday that he will not be accompanied by his staff during the G. A. R. meeting at Cincinnati and it is doubtful if the governor himself will be able to attend. He said Friday morning that he thought it exceedingly doubtful owing to press of business, as well as other later engagements which conflict with the Cincinnati meeting.

"While I was out west last winter," remarked the man who travels around a good deal, and who always manages to find the funny side of life, "I chanced to pass a party who was engaged in running a prospect hole in hill near the road. Curious to know what his prospects were, I rode over to where he was. He had taken out a considerable quantity of white quartz, but I could not discover any sign of color.

"The party was an old man who didn't seem to take kindly to my presence. I asked him what his prospects were, but he made no reply. So after looking around for a few minutes I rode on.

"I had not gone far when I was hailed by a party lying concealed in the long grass.

"Say, stranger," he whispered, "how is the old man getting along?"

"I don't know," I answered, "I could get nothing out of him."

"The party in the grass chuckled.

"He thinks you're after the widder, too."

"What widder?" I asked.

"Why, the widder Spriggans. You see that tall claim belongs to the widder. She lives down there, an' everybody round here is keepin' an eye on that claim. If hit pans out they want ter marry her, but if hit don't pan out they don't want ter marry her, 'cause the widder without a gold mine ain't a payin' investment. Ole man Bings, that's him down yander workin' the claim, thought that he would play smart and git the side track by offerin' ter work the claim fer nothin'."

"But I'm 'goin' ter fule him! The minute he yells an' throws up his hat I'm 'goin' ter scoot fer the widder's, an' I've hit fliggered out that I kin git that five minutes before he does. You'd better move on now, stranger, the ole man may smell a rat an' not throw up his hat when he strikes hit rich."

"I rode on, an' a short distance further on I was hailed by another party.

"Stranger," said he, "how does the land lay down there?"

"Are you after the widder also?" I asked.

"You bet," he answered, slapping his leg. "I'm keepin' an eye on Jim Piggans, who's hidin' down there in the grass. Jes' the minute that I see him cinch up his belt I'm 'goin' ter make tracks fer the widder's."

"I rode on without meeting anyone else until I reached the house where the widder lived. Here I discovered an old man sitting upon a fence, and who immediately inquired how 'them thar critters were gettin' on down below!"

"I explained the situation to him, and as he shifted his position on the fence, he said:

"Wul, hit won't do 'em any good. I've jumped the claim. Me an' the widder married three hours ago. Hit's out on 'em an' hit may not. Hit's jes' a speculation. But hang hit all, a man has got ter take some chances if he gits along in this world!"—Detroit Free Press.
